A testimony of South Kingston Monthly Meeting of Friends respecting Abel Collins deceased -

He was the son of Amos & Thankful Collins of North Stonington in the state of Connecticut - who were members of our religious Society and was born in that place - where he also resided - on the 2nd day of 5th mo. 1770. The nurturing care of his Parents - over his youthful mind with the blessing of Providential love was greatly conducive to that purity of heart - which he afterwards attained - From youth he was possessed of a mild & gentle disposition and an open forgiving spirit which in more mature age combined with religious devotion - made his character interesting In the twenty first year of his age - he was married to Mary daughter of Thomas & Mary Wilbur of Hopkinton in the state of Rhode Island to whom he was an affectionate companion through life -

He was a believer in the truths of Christianity - as testified of in the Holy Scriptures & being convinced of the instability of all earthly things & the necessity of regeneration & daily bearing the cross of Christ - he endeavored through watchfulness unto prayer to walk consistently with so high a profession & was encouraged to seek after a close communion with the Lord & strengthening in good measure to overcome his natural will & follow - the path of Christian Simplicity & self denial -

As a Father, guardian or Friend he performed his duties with affection & tenderness & was able by his industry & diligence - with the blessing of Providence to supply the wants of a numerous family

He was engaged to promote love & forbearance among his brethren often enforcing their virtues by citing the examples of our Divine Master & he would often say it was better to suffer wrong - than to do wrong to others - His sympathy & pity for the afflicted were often conspicuous - & he was frequently enabled to give to such - appropriate counsel & recommendation - & being easy of access his advice was much sought after -

He was diligent in the attendance of religious meetings & in encouraging them under his care to the faithful performance of the same duty -

He frequently went in a public state of health & his moderate waiting therein as well as in opportunities of retirement at home were very instructive - Endeavouring through watchfulness to maintain the Christian warfare & by a submission to the baptisms of the Spirit necessary to that service and apprehending it ~~was~~ required of him he became willing to labour in the ministry & first appeared in that service in the thirty seventh year of his age -

His gift in the Ministry was soon after approved by Friends - In the exercise of his gift his offerings were attended - by an evidence of Christian love - in which he was often favoured to minister, to individual states in great tenderness - and in a humble & weighty manner -

116.
This spirit was remarkably clothed with numerous solemnity when engaged in public prayer - He several times made religious visits in the neighbouring States which were satisfactory & acceptable as returning certificates show - from various meetings of Friends, & conduced to the peace of his own mind & he was often usefully engaged in the arduous work of visiting families - In the year 1815 he was visited with a severe illness which terminated in a permanent disease -

His distress during this illness was at times very great - in which he manifested much patience & resignation - He told his wife his prospects of forgiveness were as clear as the sun & to one who inquired after his state of mind he replied "I feel that peace which I would not exchange for the whole world -

he gradually recovered a comparatively comfortable state & was again able to attend to his social & religious duties.

That amiable & forgiving disposition the fruit of true Christianity - which had been discoverable in his early years shone forth with brightness - in his advanced life - yet though mild & unobtrusive - he was firm & persevering when duty required - nor was his limbs of body supposed to pained as an excuse for neglect - but using his position of

117

Strength with regularity his exertions turned to good account —

He was zealous that the discipline of the Church should be maintained in its purity & union that adoration should be given to offenders — in love & seemed willing in imitation of the good husbandman — to dig about the unfruitful & wait with them patiently — His exertions were often successful in reconciling differences among our members so that it may justly be said of him — that he was a Peace Maker — He was liberal in promoting works of benevolence — To the poor & suffering he was an uninter-mitting benefactor — He entertained his friends with kindness & hospitality & at the same time was a good example of that simplicity in his domestic concerns which becomes the self-denying followers of Christ

In his passage through life he met with many trials and afflictions which he bore with meekness & submission — He showed the sincerity of his profession by constancy & cheerfulness under these — remarking that "they are intended for our instruction & refinement & that he felt desirous in every trial — to adopt the language — not my will but thine be done — In the perusal of the Holy Scriptures — he took great delight & was concerned to practice the daily reading of them in his family —

While thus engaged it pleased unspeakable wisdom to call him hence — — About two months previous to his departure — a close trial was permitted to befall him in the removal by death of a dear child on which occasion parental feelings were peculiarly manifested — In her departing moments he prayed fervently — That her purified Spirit might be received into the mansion of bliss — — Another invalid daughter he endeavored to console — on the occasion by saying "weep not for her — we have no cause to mourn — she has exchanged this world for one that is better" — & it being observed "there is a breach made in our little circle which ~~will~~ cannot be restored" he replied "I know it — but we must be prepared to follow & if we can be permitted to meet in Heaven what an unspeakable favor it will be."

His health at this time had become feeble and two weeks previous to his decease — his symptoms assumed a ~~dangerous~~ a serious appearance after which he was unable to leave his chamber & expressed his conviction that he should not recover - & expected his wife to be resigned to the will of Heaven.

This can be coming more alarming it was evident that human skill was un-availing & though suffering great bodily pain yet his patience fortitude and resignation were great - no ~~re~~repeating word escaped him - but he received every affliction as from the hand of a Merciful Father & prayed that his eye might not pity - nor his hand spare - entire judgment was brought forth to victory -

At another time he was enabled to lay hold of the consoling promise "My grace is sufficient for thee" & to believe in the fulfillment of it - After a severe paroxysm of the disease - he prayed to the giver of every good & perfect gift - that he might not be permitted to do any thing but that which might tend to his Honour & Glory - - He spoke of himself as an unworthy creature - ascribing all his hopes to the Saviour & magnifying him in all things - - Love - the conspicuous feature in his character seemed remarkably to abound in his sickness - He affectionately took all by the hand, who approached him and sent messages of love to many

He often tenderly embraced his wife and children & expressed his gratitude to those about him for their kind attentions to him. & gave suitable instructions to his children & his children respecting their future conduct — Near his close articulation becoming difficult he was unable express much — but the serenity of his countenance & sweetness of his spirit — was such as indicated that all was peace within —

His work was done — his warfare nearly accomplished — little remained but to wait patiently until his change came & as the period approached his faith failed not — and he passed quietly away — without a sigh or a groan — And we have reason to believe ~~that~~ as he expressed himself near his close — he has entered a mansion of glory — there to join the just of all generations — in singing praises to him who alone is worthy "Mark the perfect man and behold the upright, for the end of that man is peace"

He departed this life on the 17th day of the month — 1834 — aged Sixty four years —
